

Cease-fire In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces joined the Viet Cong today in a New Year cease-fire across South Vietnam, but American air forces followed up their five-day attack on North Vietnam with more raids on enemy supply routes in Laos.

The 24-hour allied cease-fire began at 6 p.m. Saigon time, or 5 a.m. EST. A 72-hour truce proclaimed by the Viet Cong went into effect 17 hours earlier.

The South Vietnamese command reported only one violation during the first hours of the enemy cease-fire, an attack on a village in the Central Highlands. One militiaman was reported killed.

With the cease-fires applicable only in South Vietnam, U.S. B52 bombers were diverted to targets in Laos. They joined scores of smaller fighterbombers in raids near the Mu Gia, Ban Raving and Ban Karai passes, the entrances to the Ho Chi Minh trail.

U.S. reconnaissance planes were reported in the air over North Vietnam trying to assess the damage done by the American planes earlier this week to supply and fuel depots on the North Vietnamese side of the three passes.

The U.S. Command, in a preliminary assessment, said that 11 air defense sites were destroyed. A spokesman, Capt. James D'Entremont, said the U.S. planes encountered at least 30 surface-to-air missiles and one MIG interceptor during the five-day operation, and two of the three planes the Command reported lost were downed by the Soviet-built SAMs on Thursday, the last day of the raids.

The U.S. Command said the two planes were Navy craft that went down in the vicinity of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi. It said one of the four fliers was rescued and the other three were listed as missing. North Vietnam said two of the pilots were captured but did not give their names or any other details about them.

The only other loss admitted by the U.S. Command was an Air Force F4 Phantom downed on Sunday at Thanh Hoa, 80 miles south of Hanoi. North Vietnam said both the crewmen were killed.

North Vietnam claimed it shot down a total of 19 American aircraft.

A U.S. Central Intelligence Agency plane with three Americans and a Laotian aboard was reported missing since last Monday in northern Laos. The Air America C123 disappeared on a supply mission from Vientiane to western Sayaboury province, on the Thai border.

Prizes Awarded First '72 Birth

Sedalia's first baby of the new year will be eligible for about $110 in gifts from Sedalia merchants in the annual "First Baby Contest," judged by The Sedalia Democrat-Capital.

To be eligible, babies must be born in Bothwell Memorial Hospital and the parents must be residents of Pettis County.

Birth reports should be made to the First Baby Contest Editor of The Democrat-Capital within 48 hours after birth. The baby's sex, weight, time of birth, name also name and address of the parents must be reported.

To be eligible for prizes, one of the baby's parents must come to The Democrat-Capital's advertising offices.

Gifts this year range from a free 8-by-10 inch color portrait of the baby to gifts for Mom and Dad.

Humphrey Planning Speech in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota will formally declare Jan. 10 his decision to seek the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, a spokesman said today.

Humphrey, the party's 1968 presidential nominee, is making the announcement on that date in order to comply with a requirement of Pennsylvania law.

The law provides that Jan. 10 is the deadline for candidates to inform the state that they intend to field a slate of delegates committed to them.

Dowdy Is Convicted In Bribery Scheme

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Rep. John V. Dowdy, convicted of involvement in a $25,000 bribery scheme, is the first congressman in office to be found guilty of a criminal offense in 15 years.

The 59-year-old Texas Democrat, free today in Washington on his own recognizance, sat hunched over the defense table, staring grimly, Thursday as the jury foreman said guilty to each of the eight counts.

Dowdy, a 10-term congressman, was convicted on two counts of conspiring to accept a bribe from Nathan H. Cohen to help squash a Justice Department probe of Cohen's Maryland home improvements firm, causing interstate transport of the bribe and five counts of lying to a U.S. grand jury.

The last previous congressman convicted was the late Thomas J. Lane, D-Mass., sentenced to four months in prison in 1956 and fined $10,000 for income tax evasion. After he served the prison term he was re-elected to Congress twice.

Dowdy faces a possible maximum penalty of 40 years in prison and $40,000 in fines.

Sentencing was delayed for seven days to allow filing motions for a new trial which one of Dowdy's attorneys, Leon H.A. Pierson, said would be done. He said several grounds were available but did not elaborate.

Dowdy's conviction is not expected to have any immediate effect on his House membership.

He has several alternative courses to follow: Pending the outcome of a possible appeal or retrial he can continue as a member. He may elect to resign from the House or seek reelection next November.

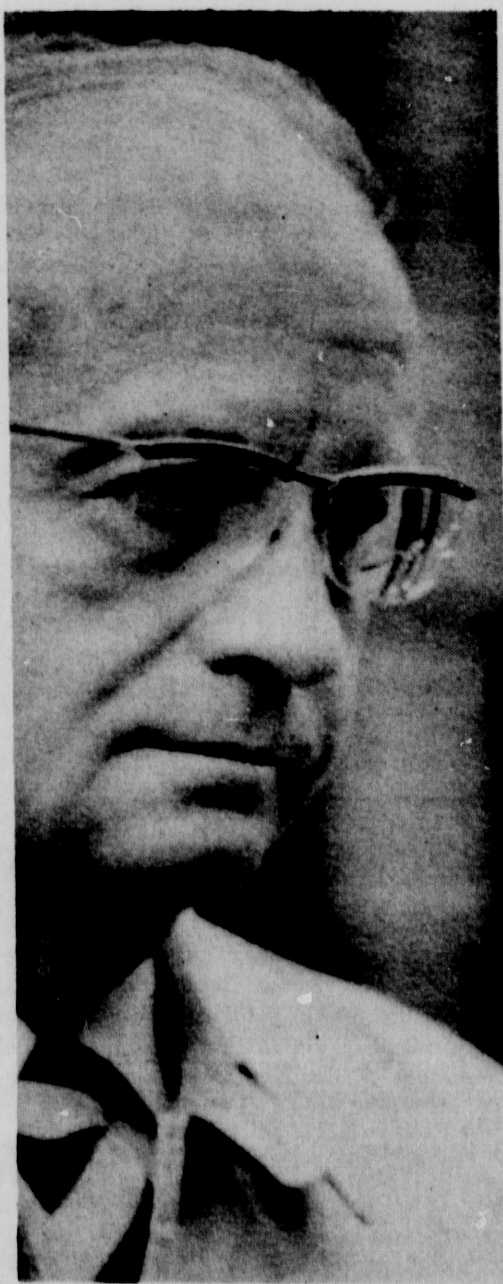

In the latter event, should he be elected and his appeal denied or again convicted by a retrial, the House—which has the final say concerning the qualification of its members—could, if it so chose, make a determination. Expulsion would require a two-thirds vote of the House.

It is unlikely, however, the House would vote to exclude unless Dowdy's right to a seat should he be challenged by a colleague.

Dowdy has no comment after the verdict was read.

Some 80 witnesses appeared at the eight-week-long trial, but the prosecution's chief witness was Cohen, a businessman who the grand jury indictment named as coconspirator. He was granted immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

Cohen testified that Dowdy had promised to help him avoid prosecution

Rep. John Dowdy
...he's sorry now

when his now-defunct Monarch Construction Corp., was under Justice Department investigation for sales practices and dealings with low-income Washington residents. Cohen said Dowdy arranged for him to gain immunity as a witness before on investigations, which Dowdy chaired.

Also submitted as prosecution evidence were recorded tapes of four conversations Cohen held with Dowdy last year. One of them, made with a recorder concealed in Cohen's clothing, contained a conversation during a visit to the congressman's office in January 1970.

It contained four references to $25,000 Cohen said was passed to Dowdy Sept. 22, 1965 at the Atlanta airport.

Barge in Trouble

The ocean-going barge "Geronimo," battered by storms and high seas on its trip from Seattle to Honolulu, arrived near the Hawaiian Islands yesterday, listing badly, with part of its cargo lost, and several cars dangling over the side. The crippled barge was pushed into the docks by several tugboats which interested tourists take some photographs. (UPI)

For New Year

Ready For Gala Celebration

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In Rome they throw crockery into the streets. In New York the city throws a free party for thousands in Central Park. In San Francisco they are throwing party makings to six gorillas.

On such varied notes will the world bid farewell to 1971 today, ending the year that was with traditional toasts, champagne celebrations and perhaps a pair of ear plugs for those who prefer to sleep through it all.

Guy Lombardo will give the midnight downbeat for Auld Lang Syne in the grand ballroom of New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, rounding out four decades as Father Time's minstrel.

In London the midnight arrival of the Royal Horse Guard and the Pipers and Drums of the Scots Guard will ensure that even the insensible know 1972 has arrived.

Italians brave their streets tonight knowing that housewives and apartment dwellers traditionally seize the occasion to clean house by throwing old crockery, pots and furniture out the window. Authorities appealed for restraint in the practice.

French gastronomes will feast on oysters and champagne. The traditional dinner for Danish families is boiled cod. In Spain the custom is to eat 12 grapes at midnight—the event is televised live.

One of the biggest parties in the world is in New York's Central Park where a parade, fireworks and dancing are expected to draw tens of thousands.

Indianapolis Jaycees expected more than 2,000 Hoosiers for an all-night party at the Union Station. Money raised will be used to restore the railroad station, a local historic landmark.

Company in K. C. Gets ABM Contract

A $1,745,541 contract awarded Thursday to Black and Veatch, Kansas City, for engineering support for Safeguard ABM sites, will not include work for the ABM project slated for the Sedalia area, the engineering firm reported to The Democrat-Capital Friday.

Earlier reports indicated the Defense Department's contract to the Kansas City firm would include work on proposed ABM facilities throughout west central Missouri.

Harry L. Callahan, Black and Veatch's manager for the Safeguard project, said Friday the contract, effective Jan. 1, covered work only for ABM installations currently under construction at Grand Forks, N.D., and Great Falls, Mont.

Callahan said his firm had negotiated contracts with the Defense Department for architectural and engineering services plans for the Grand Forks and Great Falls

Serious Charges Levelled Against Ellsberg

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony J. Russo, a former colleague at the Rand Corp., are named in a new, 15-count indictment in the Pentagon papers case that observers say should make the government's prosecution easier.

Only Ellsberg, who has admitted giving the papers to newspapers, was named in an earlier indictment returned by a federal grand jury here. The action announced Thursday replaces it, enlarges the case against Ellsberg and adds Russo.

Vu Van Thai, a former South Vietnamese ambassador to the United States, and Lynda Sinay, head of a Los Angeles advertising agency and a friend of both Ellsberg and Russo, are named as unindicted coconspirators.

The indictment, returned secretly Wednesday, accused Ellsberg and Russo of conspiring with others to steal and make known once top-secret U.S. Department of Defense papers on the Vietnam war.

Ellsberg originally was accused only of unauthorized possession of the documents and converting them to his own use.

The new 15 counts include charges of conspiracy, stealing, concealing, conveying and possessing government documents and receiving, communicating or retaining national defense documents. The counts carry various penalties up to a maximum of $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

Observers said the conspiracy count is expected to make the government's case easier since it will allow U.S. attorneys to use hearsay statements of coconspirators and other evidence not otherwise admissible.

Also, observers added, the government will be required only to prove there was an agreement to commit an unlawful act and that at least one overt act was committed in the agreement.

Miss Sinay told a Los Angeles grand jury last August that Ellsberg paid her $150 to make copies of some documents on a copying machine in her office, but that she did not know their content.

Thai, 52, was ambassador to the United States from November 1965 to December 1966. He later served as Saigon's ambassador-at-large for Latin America and Canada, then he returned to work for the United Nations. He worked as an engineer and economist for various U.N. agencies from 1961 to 1965.

The Pentagon papers leak broke last June when The New York Times began publishing installments of the study on the origin of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war. Subsequent installments appeared in various other U.S. newspapers.

Jesus Became Latest American Youth Hero During Past Year

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jesus in 1971 became the latest hero on the American youth scene.

That seemed to be the year's top development in the religious field, which has grown increasingly fluid and variable, more of a protean movement than one with clear-cut institutional structures.

This aspect showed up in many ways, including the surge of interest in Jesus and in other religious resources among young people, who widely shunned traditional church organizations.

It "has been a year of search for instant salvation," says the Rev. Dr. Eugene Smith, U.S. executive for the World Council of Churches, who adds that America is bulging with religion in quantity, but it is of uncertain quality.

"In a complex world, many are seeking simple answers," he said in a year-end review. Of the youth groundswell, he said that "like all mass movements, this one combines the elements both of hope and heresy."

The nation's youth culture, which has varied from quietism to tumultuous protest to psychedelic escapism to cultish conformity in dress and speech, displayed its new religious bent in sundry ways.

Most visible and audible was the Jesus movement, cropping up throughout the country, in communes and Bible-study meetings. The underground Jesus press grew to about 50 tivals in many communities drew thousands of young people, sometimes tens of thousands.

Broadway blossomed with hits about Jesus—"Godspell" and "Jesus Christ-Superstar." Night clubs took up the theme, and the word, "Jesus," decorated dirty T-shirts.

Colleges and universities continued to expand their offerings went through city streets, chanting their prayers.

Other major religion stories of 1971:

—Indictment of six persons, including three Roman Catholic priests, an ex-priest and a nun, on federal charges of plotting to kidnap a presidential aide and blow up a federal hearing system in protest against the Vietnam war.

—Studies commissioned by U.S. Catholic bishops at a cost of $500,000 showed most priests favor optional celibacy—but the bishops and a worldwide Synod in Rome insisted that the celibacy requirement must be maintained.

—Religious forces—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—joined in opposition to help defeat a congressional proposal to amend the U.S. Constitution to allow public schools to sponsor "nondenominational" devotions.

—Homosexuals came out in the open in their demand for full acceptance in the churches. In New York, San Francisco and elsewhere, they organized their own congregations.

—The U.S. Supreme Court

knocked out state plans in Rhode Island and Pennsylvania for subsidizing salaries of parochial school teachers, blocking similar plans in 15 other states and increasing financial pressures on a shrinking system of church schools.

—United Presbyterians and American Baptists elected women to their top offices, and the Lutheran Church in America and American Lutheran Church ordained their first women ministers.

—The Presbyterian Church U.S. (Southern) squeaked through a touchy convention without a threatened split, but some disgruntled forces in the Church still were planning on it.

—Another Roman Catholic bishop, Bernard M. Kelly of Providence, R.I., resigned from the episcopacy, protesting its rigidity. He was the second bishop in this country to do so.

—The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod turned aside proposals by its president, the Rev. Dr. J. A. O. Preus, to clamp unprecedented, new restrictions on doctrinal interpretation.

—John Cardinal Krol of Philadelphia, often called a conservative, was elected president of the National Council of Catholic Bishops, succeeding a moderately liberal bishop, John Cardinal Dearden of Detroit.

—Southern Baptists had more trouble with putting their beliefs in print. At the behest of their convention, another Bible scholar was recruited to rewrite an Old Testament commentary along conservative lines, but protests arose when officials blocked a teaching manual because of its promotion of racial integration.

KANSAS CITY — Funeral services for Mrs. Cora Blanche Murphy, who died here Wednesday, were held at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the Stine-McClure Funeral Home here.

Graveside services were held at High Point Cemetery, Hughesville, at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

Money Order

Case Sees

One Arrest

One of two women who allegedly passed stolen bank money orders in Sedalia Nov. 26 has been apprehended and returned to Sedalia.

Pettis County Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said the woman, Aniece Benton, also known as Charlene Barton, 24, was apprehended in Springfield Thursday and held for Pettis County on a warrant issued here Dec. 24.

The woman is charged with stealing more than $50 by passing one of the stolen money orders at Lockett's.

The money orders were drawn on the Republic National Bank of Dallas, Tex., and were reportedly stolen from the Pick and Pay Store in Springfield on Nov. 11. The money orders were made out for $75 each. Several stores in Sedalia honored the money orders.

Both the Sheriff's Department and the Sedalia Police Department were involved in the original investigation, with the first tip made through Sedalia's fraud alert system.

Golda Meir Expresses Optimism

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Premier Golda Meir expressed a strong belief today that the United States has decided to resume deliveries of F4 Phantom jets to Israel. A war of nerves mounted in the Middle East, with Jordan charging Israeli jets flew near its capital and Egypt announcing completion of military maneuvers.

Mrs. Meir expressed her views on the Phantoms in a radio interview while commenting on a report from Washington that the Nixon administration would go ahead with the Phantom supplies after discussions in January.

The premier, who visited Washington early in December, noted that the State Department did not deny a Washington dispatch on the Phantoms of the New York Times.

"This bears witness that indeed the planes will come to Israel," Mrs. Meir said.

The Phantom has become the workhorse of the Israeli air force.

An agreement for the delivery of the aircraft terminated last summer and was not renewed by Washington, despite urgent pleas by Israel. It was generally believed that the U.S. administration hoped thereby to preserve influence with the Arab states and at the same time to engender more Israeli flexibility.

Jordan reported Israeli jets invaded Jordanian air space and broke the sound barrier near Amman. Egypt said its forces completed maneuvers simulating the recapture of the Sinai Desert from Israel. And Israel reported Arab guerrillas from Lebanon fired bazookas at an Israeli jeep near the border but missed it.

Amman Radio said sonic booms from two formations of Israeli planes frightened residents in Salt, 15 miles northwest of Amman, and Naour, six miles south of the capital.

"Flying at extremely high altitudes," the broadcast said, "the planes caused sonic booms but could not be intercepted by anti-aircraft guns because of bad weather." It said the flights lasted 40 minutes.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that Egyptian armed forces completed a week-long exercise Thursday simulating the crossing of the Suez Canal and the retaking of Sinai.

The report said the exercise "was structured along the lines of contingencies expected in the task of liberating occupied territories. It included crossing of water barriers, tank engagements in full collaboration with the air force, battles involving various types of artillery, paratrooper assaults and logistic operations."

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, turned over command of the armed services today to Maj. Gen. David Elizar, who headed operations against Syria, Lebanon and northern Jordan during the 1967 war.

In a meeting with newsmen Thursday, Bar-Lev, 47, said there was a possibility that Egypt might start a new battle on the Suez front, but he added: "I don't believe the Egyptians themselves know what to do, so how can Israel know what will happen?"

In Washington, a U.S. official said discussions will be held with Israel about further arms deliveries, but he refused to confirm a report that the Nixon administration has decided to grant Israel's request to buy more F4 Phantom jet fighterbombers.

Damage Suit Is Filed By Motel Firm

R. I. Motel, Inc., filed a petition for $260,000 damages plus $35,000 in attorney fees and costs against the First State Savings Association in Pettis County Circuit Court Thursday.

The suit centers around a contract dispute concerning a $1,175,000 loan agreement signed Aug. 30, 1971, between the two parties.

The money was to be used to finance the construction of the Ramada Inn on West Highway 50.

In the petition, attorneys for R. I. Motel, Inc., maintain First State Savings is demanding excessive interest on money already drawn on the loan agreement, and demanding payment before the property abstract can be returned to the motel firm.

The attorneys representing R. I. Motel, Inc., are William F. Brown and Adam Fischer.

The $260,000 sought is broken down into two parts, $60,000 for actual damages and $200,000 for exemplary and punitive damages.

Officers of R. I. Motel, Inc., are: Olen Howard, president; Darrell Olsen, secretary; and E. W. Thompson, treasurer and stockholder.

Grant Venue Change

The case of Jackie Anderson, Concordia, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, was transferred from Cooper County to Pettis County Circuit Court Thursday on a change of venue.

Anderson is in the Pettis County jail in lieu of $3,000 bond.

Bonds Forfeited

Patsy R. Snapp, 32, Route 5, and Letha Wilson, 49, Sanford, Tex., charged with petit larceny, both forfeited their $50 bonds in Municipal Court Friday.

They were charged in connection with an alleged shoplifting at Bing's No. 1 supermarket Thursday afternoon. Reportedly taken in the incident were three blouses and one pair of pants, with a total value of $21.95.

Enjoy Chief's Dinner

Annual Police Party

Chief of Police Bill Miller and Mrs. Miller hosted about 75 members of the police department, their wives and members of the news media at a party at the Coffee Pot Cafe Thursday night.

The dinner party is an annual affair hosted by the Millers to review the old year and welcome in the new one.

In a short talk to the group Miller noted the department had enjoyed a successful year and predicted better things to come. He outlined the department's operational functions in the new quarters it will occupy in the new city hall and how the different sections of the department would be separated for greater efficiency.

The police chief said he would again this year attempt to get pay raises for members of the department, but expressed little confidence realizing his goal. "I have tried to get better pay for policemen and more policemen on the force, but the money for these things is never available," he noted.

After dinner Mrs. Miller and Assistant Police Chief Charles Knapp supervised the distribution of door prizes.

Police Will Give

Free Rides Home

Drivers will be given a free ride home tonight if they feel they have had a little too much to drink while celebrating the arrival of the new year, according to Police Chief Bill Miller.

Miller asked the news media to stress the fact that the free rides will apply only to the Sedalia city limits, because a year or two ago one drinking driver asked for the free ride — to his home in Kansas City.

The Police Chief said, "We feel it is a lot better to give drinking drivers a ride home than to have them driving on the streets." He added that this is an annual courtesy extended on New Year's Eve.

Aliens Must Give Report on Address

Persons who are not citizens of the U.S. but who live here must report their addresses during January, it was reported by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Kansas City Friday. A Jan. 31 deadline has been set.

H. I. Major, district director of the Immigration Service, said all aliens, regardless of age, must report their addresses. In the case of children under 14 years of age, parents or legal guardians must fill out the cards, which are available at any post office.

The cards may be mailed directly to the nearest office of the Immigration Service (in St. Louis or Kansas City) or may be returned to the clerk at the post office, Major said.

BOTHWELL HOSPITAL

Admissions

David Stratton, 1411 South Osage; Miss Colia Ash, Route 1; Mrs. Charles Manns, 1214 East Sixth.

Bothwell Hospital Friday reported that the condition of Mrs. Earlie Whiteman, 623 West 24th, is good. Mrs. Whiteman, hospitalized early this week, for an apparent heart condition, has been moved out of the Intensive Care unit into a room.

Dismissals

Mrs. William Edwards and daughter, 802 Ruth Ann Dr.; Mrs. Francis Cramer and daughter, 1211 East Fourth; Miss Betty A. Chase, Springfield; Edwin H. Pritzell, Cole Camp; Mrs. John C. Caldwell, 1402 East Fourth; Frank L. Griffin, Smithton; Miss Rita F. Lett, Versailles.

Vaught Awarded Partial Settlement

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WARRENSBURG — Sedalia Fire Chief Emmett Vaught was awarded $14,750 in Johnson County Circuit Court Thursday as partial settlement in a damage suit stemming from the auto accident in which his wife was killed last year.

Vaught filed the action asking $50,000 against William Crouse, 81, Polo, Mo., and Vernon Bell, 46, Centerville, Mo. Mrs. Vaught was a passenger in Bell's 1966 Chevrolet when it collided with the 1966 Cadillac operated by Crouse at the intersection of Highways 50 and 131 at Pittsville on Oct. 18, 1970.

The amount awarded Thursday represented a settlement of the portion of the case involving Crouse. The remaining part of the action is still pending.

Western Actor Shot to Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Duel, co-star of the ABC television series "Alias Smith and Jones," was found shot to death here early today at his Hollywood Hills home, police said.

Detectives said Duel apparently died of a bullet wound in the head. Officers said they are listing the death as a possible homicide.

Duel, a native of Rochester, N.Y., also appeared in such television series as "Combat," "The Fugitive," "The Bold Ones" and "Name of the Game."

Before arriving in Hollywood, Duel attended St. Lawrence University and enrolled in the American Theater Wing in New York City.

Extended Controls Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government control over wage and price increases will be needed long after Phase 2 ends, says Paul W. McCracken, retiring chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

And, McCracken said, Phase 2 of President Nixon's economic control program will last at least through the 1972 election.

McCracken told a farewell news conference Thursday he could not predict what kind of controls would be around after Phase 2 ends, but added:

"Phase 3 will have to be something that permits the market system to operate still more freely than it does now, but which has some regard for the tendency of costs and prices to continue rising after the overheating of the economy has ended."

He said Phase 3 might be no more than a matter of official supervision, but stressed the government would have to exercise controls "for a long time to come."

McCracken emphasized his remarks did not necessarily reflect the administration's position, but rather were "the personal views of a professor on his way back to academia."

McCracken is returning to his economics teaching position at the University of Michigan. Herbert Stein, now vice chairman of the council, will become its chairman Jan. 1.

Meanwhile, the Price Commission said Thursday tenants can expect at least a one-month delay in any increases in their rents, and many probably will not have to pay the increases until March.

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said all tenants on monthly or weekly leases who did not pay increases before Wednesday do not have to pay more than their December rent in January even if they have received notice of an increase.

In other economic action:

—AFL-CIO President George Meany said the Pay Board would be paralyzed by a crush of appeals and challenges unless it changes its policies of permitting business members of the board to automatically challenge any scheduled salary increase over 7 per cent.

—Donald Rumsfeld, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, said in Chicago he expects the Pay Board will approve only a portion of a 12 per cent first-year wage increase to 11,000 North American Rockwell Corp. aerospace workers. Rumsfeld also said he expects the council to issue guidelines next week on contracts within the aerospace industry.

—The Price Commission said retailers must post their price-ceiling lists in a position "easily accessible to the customer and must not require him to ask a store employee for access to the information."

Indo-U. S. Arguments Are Seen

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said today that the rift between the Indian and U.S. governments can only be healed when Washington recognizes the independence of Bangladesh.

Mrs. Gandhi told her first news conference since the India-Pakistan war that any setback in relations between her government and the Nixon administration was not her doing.

"We have done everything possible to be friendly, because we value the friendship of America," she said. But to bridge whatever gap the war caused, she continued, "there is a certain situation the United States must realize—that Bangladesh is no longer a part of Pakistan but won its independence in a justified revolution with the support of India."

No matter what President Nixon decides, Mrs. Gandhi continued, the American people are with her.

"A very large portion of my mail comes from Americans," she reported.

Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Young Man Died Of Heart Disease

Dear Dr. Lamb — What would cause a young fellow 44 to die of a heart attack called occlusive arteriosclerotic cardiovascular disease? He came home from work and started coughing and died. He had lost about 10 pounds in two weeks before. He smoked cigarettes a lot and drank lots of black coffee and drank milk and ate lots of eggs. Also his diet was poor, lots of hot dogs and hamburgers. My mother passed away with hardening of the arteries at age 66. The doctor says it is hereditary and all of us should see the doctor.

What kind of tests should we ask for because he says it doesn't show on an X ray. There are 10 of us left. He was next to the youngest. He was a newspaper printer.

Dear Reader — You have described a lot of things in your brother's living habits that are associated with a greater frequency of heart attacks. Cigarettes, too much coffee, fat foods and foods high in cholesterol, specifically eggs. I would guess he was overweight if he had been on a diet and lost 10 pounds in two weeks. That also is the wrong way to diet and often does more harm than good. Slow gradual weight reduction is much better.

Being a newspaper printer he probably had a fairly sedentary job and didn't get enough exercise.

I wish there were enough room in the column to tell you all the things you need to know about smoking, diet and exercise as related to preventing heart disease. Since I can't, the best I can recommend is to obtain a copy of my book, "Your Heart and How to Live With It," from the Viking Press, 625 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. It was written to try to help people like you who need information on how to prevent heart attacks.

It is true that unless some special X rays are taken after dye is injected into the arteries of the heart, that you can't see the disease on X rays. A good general examination plus certain chemical tests to tell how the body is handling fat and how much cholesterol is in the body are important. So is an electrocardiogram to test the electrical function of the heart.

Heart attacks are more common in some families and these people particularly need to follow a program designed to prevent them.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have diverticulosis and your column has been a great help. I have been taking three tablespoons of molasses plus a dash of sweet cream in a cup of hot water before breakfast for some time. It does seem to help my condition. I have been told lately that molasses has a serious side effect on diverticulosis and on the intestines. Will you please comment on this?

Dear Reader — Enjoy your molasses, it is good for you. It is also a good source of iron in your diet. It won't hurt you at all. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Polly's Pointers

Climbing Plant Has Metal Supporter

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I would like to share a discovery with the other girls. I went to a lumber yard to get something to hold up my climbing plants and happened to see metal stripping that carpenters use in corners before a wall is plastered. I think it is called beading. This is sturdy enough for a profuse growth, stands alone from floor to ceiling when in a good-sized pot and really looks nice. I have had many compliments on the way mine looks. — MRS. R. T.

DEAR POLLY — To strengthen my children's shoe laces and make them wear longer, I stitch each one lengthwise three or four times on the sewing machine. — CATHERINE

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — How do I change a golden oak buffet to a mahogany finish? — R. B.

DEAR POLLY — I have two Pet Peeves. First, why don't the makers of those quilted mattress pads allow for shrinkage? After they are washed the size is a disgrace. The other is with the check-out counters in dime stores, drugstores, etc., that are so cluttered that there is often not room to put down large purchases. I have actually had to put such things on the floor between my feet while I paid the check. Come on, store owners, give us some room and get rid of the junk you are trying to tempt us to buy. — LOUISE

DEAR POLLY — I do not know how Polly M. can prevent her stainless steel pans from burning but cleaning them is simple when done my way. Dissolve two tablespoons cream of tartar in one quart boiling water in the darkened pan. Place over flame and boil rapidly for 10 minutes and then touch up lightly with a soapy steel wool pad. — MRS. A. D. J. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Nixon: 'Man of Year' in '72 Also?

WASHINGTON — Time magazine's editors should have had no difficulty at all selecting Richard M. Nixon as the "Man of the Year" for 1971.

For in abruptly transforming himself from a passive negative President to a flamboyantly activist leader, Mr. Nixon clearly seized the imagination of this nation and the world.

His bold new initiatives in the foreign field, his plunge into bang-bang summitry, his stunning reversals of domestic policy, made friend and foe acutely aware that Nixon is a man to watch — constantly.

It is no small measure of Nixon's success that he prompted Democratic party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to concede: "Given the events of 1971, I trust the Democratic party no longer believes Mr. Nixon will defeat himself. That Democrats need only mark time until the White House is handed to them. To believe this is to GUARANTEE a Republican victory."

Many observers, including some astute Democrats, believe that the events of 1971 have already pretty much guaranteed a Republican victory in the 1972 elections.

There are other wise politicians, however, who insist that while Mr. Nixon made 1971 the year of the great promise, he can still be in serious trouble if he does not make 1972 the year of the great delivery.

It has been obvious for months that Mr. Nixon intends to campaign as the President who ushered in an era of peace. The trips to Red China and the Soviet Union and some strategically timed announcements about new withdrawals from Vietnam will be central to this campaign.

But the recent massive bombings of North Vietnam illustrate the complexities of, and possible pitfalls in, these highly-publicized travels designed to enhance the President's image as "peacemaker."

The bombings are designed to discourage a Communist offensive in Indochina that would leave Mr. Nixon in an embarrassing position of weakness when he sits down with the Chinese leaders.

Yet, the bombings carry a heavy risk. When a fellow Communist country and ally is being pummeled with American bombs, Peking will be under intense pressure to behave in such a way that even the best Madison Avenue flacks cannot make the Nixon journey appear to be a great stride toward peace.

The Russians can scarcely appear to be more buddy-buddy than the Chinese with a U.S. leader who, Hanoi claims, is bombing and strafing hospitals.

The Russians could be even cooler if the Kremlin decides it does not want to do anything to help ensure Nixon's re-election. They could, for example, stall on any meaningful agreement on arms limitation.

So the Democrats might be able to sell many voters, particularly new, young voters, the argument that Nixon the "peace candidate" was long on public relations and short on achievement.

But Democratic propagandists seem to be zeroing in more on domestic unhappiness. They are trying to exploit the farmers' anger over administration policies, the discontent over lingering high unemployment, the contention that the administration looks for the fatcats but that the President blocks or vetoes measures designed to help the masses.

A recent Democratic propaganda publication noted that "President Nixon has managed to cut off money for education twice and three times emasculate vitally needed health and medical programs. At a time of soaring unemployment, Nixon twice vetoed bills designed to assure opportunities for employment and to extend training to the unemployed."

How potent a campaign weapon is that? It appears the Democrats themselves feel a need for more. After noting the Nixon vetoes, they go on to express indignation that White House executives pay "$1.51 for a lunch that costs $16.06 to prepare" while the poor and jobless suffer.

Part of the fascination with the Richard Nixon of the last half of 1971 was that he contrasted so favorably with the inactive Nixon who had let the economy drift from bad to near-calamitous for two and one-half years.

The mere excitement of action was enough to lift hopes.

While no one ought ever underestimate the ability of an incumbent President to create the appearance of bold undertakings with great promise, 1972 will be a year in which more and more people will start looking at the results — whether they be relatives of a Vietnam prisoner of war or the family of a jobless man.

The next year will be mean, with the politics hard to endure, but it will provide a fascinating spectacle of the American voter sorting out his facts, his priorities, and making his choice.

The 1970 highway fatality rate of 4.9 per 100 million miles of vehicle travel was the lowest in America's history. The World Almanac notes that programs aimed at reducing alcohol-related accidents—the cause of one-half the 54,800 deaths—addition of safety features designed to protect passengers during a crash and better highways have improved safety.

Preserved "Old Glory"

The name of "Old Glory" was given by Capt. William Driver of Salem, Mass., in 1831, to an American flag which is preserved in the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C. It has 24 stars and an anchor.

Our friend ole Jim Stark over at Green Ridge may not have his store bought teeth yet, but he still managed to take a nip or two at us the other day.

Jim is the publisher, editor, reporter, ad salesman and janitor at the only other newspaper in Pettis County, the Green Ridge Local News.

What got ole Jim riled was a feature story we had a while back on Missouri Community Betterment Clubs in the county. There's one in Green Ridge, and therein lies the difficulty.

The Local News—in a very polite way, mind you—says our Green Ridge source erred in crediting a lot of improvement, over Green Ridge way to the CB group, when in truth it was the Chamber of Commerce that accomplished it all.

And it wasn't last June when the Green Ridge CB Club was organized, it was May 20, the Local News chides. Maybe it took 10 days to get the word out.

I'm not familiar enough with Green Ridge politics to know who's right in this case, so we'll accept Jim's gentle correction until we hear different.

We're proud of all our Community Betterment Clubs in Pettis County; but Jim also has a good thing going for him in that he only has ONE to deal with, from a news angle that is.

Allow me to explain. Sometimes The Democrat-Capital feels like it's caught in a crossfire between the Hatfields and the McCoys when it comes to Community Betterment. Let Smithton get an inch more news space than Houstonia, and the lead will start flying. Same thing if LaMonte tops out Hughesville one month. I sometimes suspect that there are CB'ers waiting with rulers for each issue of the newspaper.

One final thought, Jim. Although you may have set the record straight, chances are now you have the Green Ridge CB Club mad at YOU. And for that there is one bit of advice—look out!

Once again it is time for the annual New Year's rite as practiced by what H. L. Menken once fondly described as the boobus americanus.

The boobus each year ushers in the new year by a strange ritual, the origins of which are lost in antiquity. It is thought to be an outgrowth of the human sacrifices practiced by the ancient Aztecs. Only this way it takes a little longer.

Congregating in tribal groups on the evening before the new year arrives, the boobus americanus costumes himself in strange head dress similar to that of an African witchdoctor.

He is also likely to make primitive musical sounds with a form of cardboard wind instrument stuck in his mouth. Other instruments that clang, whistle and shriek are common accoutrements of the ceremony.

The climax of the new year's rite at 12 midnight is apt to be characterized by frenzied dancing, singing and noise making, plus open signs of affection, not always with one's wife. This behavior is brought on after the boobus has drunk large amounts of the ceremonial potion. It can be one of several types that has an unusual effect on the boobus' limited thinking capacity.

After midnight, the ritual subsides rather rapidly, as the participants, characterized by a glassy stare, gradually lose their motive ability.

The next morning the boobus can be found in a supine position holding his head in his hands. It is at this point that the danger of self-destruction is greatest, and the boobus needs the care of his enlightened 20th century brothers, who are free of such primitive impulses.

The Covered Bridge Is Worth Preserving

The only covered bridge left in the state highway system, at Burfordville in Cape Girardeau County, has been turned over to the Missouri Park Board so it can be preserved.

In making the announcement, the State Highway Commission said that by taking the bridge out of the state system it would get less traffic and its longevity would be extended.

We envy Burfordville for having a covered bridge left to preserve.

As Pettis Countians no doubt remember well, it was five years ago that the covered bridge on Flat Creek, south of Sedalia, was burned by vandals. It remains one of the worst acts of vandalism ever perpetrated in this area.

Today there are only four covered bridges remaining in the state. The Burfordville bridge is unique: the only known combination of covered bridge and grist mill left standing in the United States, according to the Park Board.

The other bridges are located in Jefferson, Linn and Monroe Counties. The Flat Creek bridge was the only one in this part of the state.

All of the remaining covered bridges in Missouri are now listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

As a further means of preserving them, the Park Board is considering closing the bridges to vehicular traffic. This would be an effective means of protecting the bridges against such accidents.

We endorse the Park Board's plans to preserve our last remaining covered bridges, and wish Burfordville better luck than Sedalia had.

"Do You Think It Will Hold, John?"

Merry-Go-Round

U.S. 'Show of Force' Was Aimed at India

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Throughout the Indian-Pakistani War, the American people once again were misled by their leaders.

Secret documents dispute, for example, the White House explanation for dispatching a naval task force to the Bay of Bengal.

Official spokesmen emphasized that the task force's main mission was to evacuate American citizens from embattled Dacca.

We have studied the secret White House papers dealing with the two-week war. These make clear that the task force—including the aircraft carrier Enterprise, the most powerful ship in the Navy—was sent into Indian waters as a "show of force."

This provocative naval deployment was intended (1) to compel India to divert both ships and planes to shadow the task force; (2) to weaken India's blockade against East Pakistan; (3) possibly to divert the Indian aircraft carrier Vikram from its military mission; and (4) to force India to keep planes on defense alert, thus reducing their operations against Pakistani ground troops.

The evacuation of American citizens was strictly a secondary mission, adopted more as the justification than the reason for the naval move.

Here's how the "Top Secret" orders to the task force were finally worded: "Situation: U.S. citizens may have to be evacuated from the area affected by the present India-Pakistan conflict. The situation may also arise which will require the presence and utilization of a CVA (carrier) to ensure the protection of U.S. interests in the area."

"Mission: to form a contingency evacuation force capable of helo (helicopter) evacuation of civilians, of self-protection, and of conducting naval air and surface ops (operations) as directed by higher authority in order to support U.S. interests in the Indian Ocean area."

Meanwhile, those anonymous aides, who whisper the latest word from the White House into the ears of newsmen, have stopped pretending that the task force was intended to evacuate stranded Americans.

Now the aides are leaking the story that President Nixon had learned of the Soviet-Indian plans not only to lop off East Pakistan but to dismember West Pakistan. The task force was ordered into the Indian Ocean, according to this line, as a deterrent.

But this, too, is a distortion of the information contained in the White House papers. Here are excerpts from the "Secret Sensitive" strategy session that took place in the White House's fabled Situation Room shortly before the decision to present a "show of force" in the Bay of Bengal:

"Mr. Helms (the CIA chief) opened the meeting by briefing the current situation. It is reported that prior to terminating present hostilities, Mrs. Gandhi intends to attempt to eliminate Pakistan's armor and air force capabilities."

"Assessing the situation in the West, General Ryan (the Air Force chief) indicated that he did not see the Indians pushing too hard at this time, rather they seem to be content with a holding action."

"Dr. Kissinger (the President's chief foreign policymaker) suggested that... if the Indians smash the Pak air force and the armored forces, we would have a deliberate Indian attempt to force the disintegration of Pakistan. The elimination of the Pak armored and air forces would make the Paks defenseless."

"It would turn West Pakistan into a client state. The possibility elicits a number of questions. Can we allow a U.S. ally to go down completely? Can we allow the Indians to scare us off?"

"Mr. Sisco (assistant state secretary in charge of Asian affairs) stated that if the situation were to evolve as Dr. Kissinger had indicated, then, of course, there was a serious risk to West Pakistan. Mr. Sisco doubted, however, that the Indians had this as their objective."

"Dr. Kissinger stated that what we may be witnessing is a situation wherein a country (India), equipped and supported by the Soviets, may be turning half of Pakistan into an impotent state and the other half into a vassal... One could make a case, he argued, that we have done everything two weeks too late in the current situation."

"Mr. Packard (deputy defense secretary) stated that perhaps the only satisfactory outcome would be for us to stand fast, with the expectation that the West Paks could hold their own."

"Dr. Kissinger said that we are not trying to be even-handed. The President does not want to be even-handed. The President believes that India is the attacker."

"Dr. Kissinger said that we cannot afford to ease India's state of mind. 'The lady' is cold blooded and tough and will not turn into a Soviet satellite merely because of pique. We should not ease her mind. He invited anyone who objected to this approach to take his case to the President."

Next day, preparations were made to send a task force into the Bay of Bengal to confront both Soviet and Indian warships.

We wind up the year with a hand sent us by our good friend Curtis Cook of Birmingham.

He commented the bidding was horrible. We disagree. East and West were flag-flying against their vulnerable opponents who refused to settle for the sure 500 points a double would bring.

West opened the ace of hearts and shifted to the jack of diamonds.

This gave South a chance to work out an elimination play. He won in dummy; led two rounds of trumps and when both opponents followed he could have spread his hand. But he played the hand out. If he had claimed he would have used up much more time explaining. The play was simple. He ruffed his last heart and cashed dummy's remaining top diamonds. The suit didn't break but that made no difference since all he had to do was ruff dummy's last diamond; lead the jack of clubs and pass it to East.

It didn't matter that East held both the king and queen of clubs. He had to lead a club back or give declarer a ruff and discard.

If West had shifted to a club at trick two, South would have had no way to go but down at his five spade contract. However, there was no reason to assume both club honors in the East hand. Put one or both over in West and five spades would make easily against any defense.

MU Wins First Tourney Title Since '54, 67-58

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Missouri Tigers became odds-on favorites to win the Big Eight Conference basketball championship today after taking the league's preseason tournament crown Thursday night.

The Tigers, tourney champions for the first time since 1954, utilized superior defense and hot shooting streaks of sophomore Al Eberhard and John Brown to whip Kansas State 67-58 in the finals.

The victory was Missouri's 10th in 11 games. Kansas State is 6-6.

Brown was named to the all-tournament team and the four-day dribble derby's most outstanding player in a vote of 58 sports writers and sportscasters covering the event. Eberhard gained a second team berth.

With Brown, who got 54 votes, on the first team were Bud Stallworth of Kansas, Martinez Demmon of Iowa State, Chuck Jura of Nebraska and

Houston, Colorado Tangle In Tonight's Top Contest

HOUSTON (AP) — Seventh-ranked Colorado and 15th ranked Houston tout their triple option offenses in the 13th annual Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl tonight but to hear the head coaches talk, it's a preview of Saturday's Orange Bowl.

In describing his opponent, Colorado head coach Eddie Crowder compared Houston to No. 1 ranked Nebraska and Houston Coach Bill Yeoman said the Buffaloes were similar to unbeaten Alabama. Nebraska and Alabama tangle New Year's Day in the Orange Bowl.

"Houston looks closest to Nebraska in their offensive attack," Crowder said. "They run and pass well and force you to defend against both." Crowder said the Cornhuskers were much larger than Houston however.

Yeoman said Colorado was much like Alabama and was faster at a couple of positions. Yeoman said Colorado's

Playoff Picks

Favor Baltimore, Dallas

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins have come a long way in their short six-year history, but they will go no further—and Super Bowl VI figures to be a Baltimore-Dallas confrontation just as Super Bowl V was last year.

That, at least, is the way it looks to this pro picker, who picked against the Dolphins last week when they surprised the Kansas City Chiefs in a game that lasted 82 minutes and 40 seconds.

The Dolphins won't get that long to beat the Colts, and there are those who suspect they can't get the job done in 60 minutes against a Baltimore team that was ranked No. 1 in total offense, rushing offense and pass defense during the regular season.

While the Colts and Dolphins battle for the American Conference berth in the Super Bowl, the San Francisco 49ers and Dallas Cowboys will battle for the National Conference post.

And the pick here is the streaking Cowboys.

Here's the way the two games look from here in detail:

Baltimore 24, Miami 21—The Colts are out to prove a point—that last year's Super Bowl victory was no fluke. The Dolphins may have proved their point—that they have arrived—in their dramatic victory over the Chiefs. The thought here is that the game against Kansas City may have taken something out of them physically and, possibly, emotionally as well. It's difficult to see them rising to such an emotional peak two weeks in succession.

Dallas 31, San Francisco 17—The Cowboys also are out to prove a point—that last year's Super Bowl loss to Baltimore was a fluke. And they have the weapons to do it with Roger Staubach at quarterback, Calvin Hill and Duane Thomas at the running back spots and Bob Hayes and Lance Alworth at the receiving positions. The

Hopkins and Parker Tied in Point Race

Mike Hopkins, who had a 17.7 scoring average last week for the Jefferson City Jays, poured in 37 points in the Jays' losing effort against Springfield Kickapoo during the consolation game of the Springfield Glendale Holiday Basketball Tournament. In netting his 37 points, which is the highest individual output so far this season, for a Central Missouri Conference player, he has moved into a first-place tie with Columbia's George Parker for the scoring leadership in the CMC.

Both Hopkins and Parker have averages of 19.87; each have scored 156 points in their eight games to date this season.

Kim Anderson, Sedalia Smith-Cotton, is only percentage points behind with a current mark of 19.25. His figures do not include Thursday night's total scored during the Glendale Tournament.

Dennis White, Mexico, follows the three league-leaders with an average of 18.63.

Hannibal, sporting a 9-2 record and in a first-place tie for the CMC top spot at 1-0, has three starters scoring in double figures. One other starter is just below ten points per game.

Lyndell Williams, Mike Welch and Tony Kemp are averaging 16.36, 16.09 and 14.54 points per game for the Pirates. Six-foot, six-inch Allen Stewart is just under ten points per game with 9.00. He is splitting the center duties with Mike Robey.

Smith-Cotton has two other starters in double figures, both of whom are guards. Don Tatman is scoring at an 11.00 clip, while Doug Maple is averaging at 10.62.

Steve Mitchell of Kansas State. Stallworth, the tournament's leading scorer with 71 points, was second in the voting with 49 followed by Demmon with 47, Jura 40 and Mitchell 38.

Besides Eberhard, who polled 20 votes, the second team included Gene Mack of Iowa State with 15, Scott Martin of Oklahoma with 7 and Mike Jeffries of Missouri and Tom Holland of Oklahoma, each with 4.

Stallworth was far behind in the outstanding player balloting with four votes. Mitchell got three.

Iowa State won third place with an 87-82 triumph over Colorado. Nebraska finished fifth by routing Oklahoma 84-68. Oklahoma State nipped Kansas 66-65 for seventh. It was the first time in Kansas' history the Jayhawks, who won the title a year ago, wound up last.

"Defense was the main factor in our win," said Missouri Coach Norm Stewart, who was a junior star in the Tigers' 1954

Charlie Davis was more of a threat than Alabama's Johnny Musso.

Astro-Bluebonnet officials said more than 50,000 would be in the Astrodome for the nationally televised contest at 6:30 p.m. CST.

Sophomore speedster Davis of Colorado and Robert Newhouse of Houston, two of the top rushers in the nation, fuel the triple option offense of the two teams.

Newhouse rushed 1,757 yards during the regular season and finished second in the nation to Cornell's Ed Marinaro who had 1,881. Newhouse is one of four ball carriers to rush over 1,700 yards in college football history.

Davis is from West Columbia, Tex., and one of two Texans on the Buffaloes' starting offensive unit. Davis got his chance to start when Junior Jon Keyworth was lost for the season with a broken leg.

Davis responded with 1,386 yards rushing, best ever for a Colorado back. His total included a 342-yard effort against Oklahoma State.

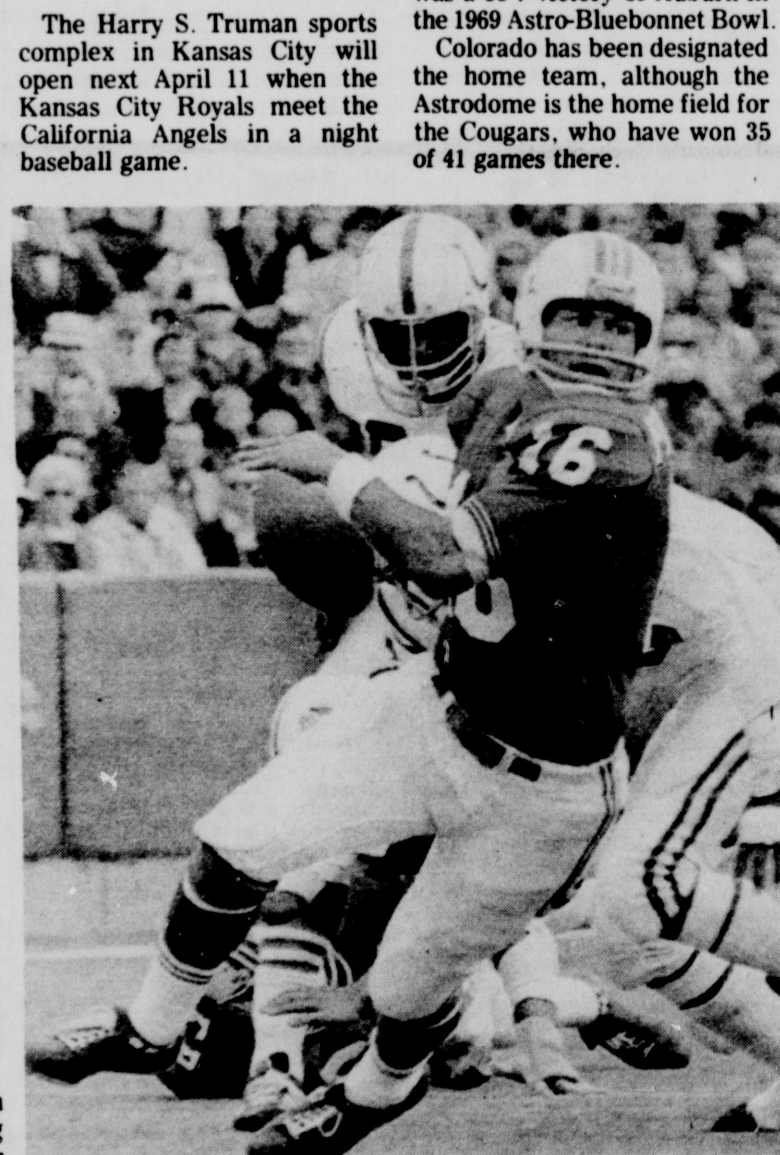

Both teams have 9-2 records. Colorado lost only to Big Eight Conference rivals Nebraska and Oklahoma and Houston lost to Alabama and Arizona State.

It is the third straight bowl appearance for the Buffaloes, who have appeared in the Liberty Bowl the past two seasons. Houston's last Bowl appearance was a 31-7 victory of Auburn in the 1969 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Colorado has been designated the home team, although the Astrodome is the home field for the Cougars, who have won 35 of 41 games there.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Second-ranked Oklahoma, packing college football's most explosive offense, and No. 5 Auburn, featuring the deadly passing of Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan, tangle Saturday in the 38th Sugar Bowl football game.

A high scoring affair is expected when the ground-oriented Sooners and the air-minded Tigers kick off the action at 11 a.m. CST before a sellout throng of 82,000 in Tulane Stadium and a national television audience ABC. The New Orleans area will be blacked out on the TV coverage.

The two once-beaten powers enter the game in the peak of physical condition, with Oklahoma rated a strong, 10-point favorite.

Brown Draws Foul

Missouri's John Brown (with ball) tries to drive around Kansas State's David Hall during the championship game of the Big Eight Tournament, Thursday night, in Kansas City. Tired Tigers Win Third in Tourney

"We're all tired... it'll be really good to get back home for awhile," said Smith-Cotton Tigers' basketball coach Jim Dinsdale after his squad had captured third place in the Springfield Glendale Holiday Tournament Thursday night with a 71-53 victory over West Plains.

After a close first half Thursday night against West Plains, the Tigers blew the game wide open at the outset of the third quarter with their full court press. Leading by only two points, 27-25, as the second half opened, Dinsdale slapped on the press and widened the margin to 47-38 by the close of the third period.

S-C outscored West Plains 24-13 in the final stanza, as the Tigers spread the zone and forced the Zizzers into man-to-man defense.

Kim Anderson had his best night of the year with a career high of 36 points; he also pulled in 15 rebounds.

Jim Sanders came off the bench to toss in 14 points. He was the only other Tiger in double figures.

S-C held a wide edge in rebounds with a margin of 51-26 in the game. However, in the first half, 11 of West Plains' 17 cars were offensive; this area received special treatment in the dressing room at the half.

The rest of the game, West Plains was only able to get nine more total rebounds.

Steve Herzberg, who added eight points to the Bengals' side of the ledger, hauled in 18 rebounds to take game honors in that department. Sanders picked off nine others. Tim Tipton led the West Plains' attack with 23 points; Mike Forbes was the only other player in double figures in the contest with 11.

With Thursday night's game, the Tigers completed an eight-game road trip, which started Dec. 10.

During the stint on the road, S-C was able to post a 3-5 mark, giving them an overall standing of 3-6.

"We are all going to take a rest... traveling, practicing and playing as much as we have in the last week has really sapped everyone," Dinsdale added.

S-C went on the road Dec. 23 for their first conference game of the season at Columbia. Following that game, the Tigers have spent most of their time on the road between here and Springfield.

Dinsdale is looking forward to a pair of upcoming games on the S-C floor Jan. 7-8 with Mexico and Jefferson City.

"We lost our opener in Columbia... a game that we could have won. Now we are on the bottom of the heap, but we can redeem ourselves with a couple of wins next week and be right back in the race."

Host Glendale snapped undefeated Parkview's string at nine with a 64-56 win in the championship game of the tourney. Parkview was leading at the half by 30-24. At the end of three quarters, the Vikings were still in command, 45-38, but they died in the stretch.

Bruce Young of Glendale was the game's leading scorer with 26; Dan O'Leary topped Parkview's scoring with 20.

Big 8 Conference Schools Will Profit Heavily From Bowl Games

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A survey indicated today that the Big Eight Conference is likely the most generous of all conferences in dealing out take-home pay to its football teams competing in postseason bowl games.

Four 1971 Big Eight teams have competed or will compete in bowl contests by Saturday night. Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado and Iowa State.

Iowa State, which lost to Louisiana State 33-15 in the Sun Bowl Dec. 18, and Colorado, playing Houston in the Astro-Bluebonnet tonight, each receive a basic allowance of $100,000 plus $27 per air mile one way, a Big Eight spokesman said.

Nebraska, opposing Alabama in the Orange Bowl Saturday night, will receive a basic allowance of $150,000 plus the same air travel allowance. So will Oklahoma for its game against Auburn in the Sugar Bowl Saturday.

The remainder of revenue from the games is split eight ways among Big Eight teams.

The survey also covered the granddaddy of all bowl games, the Rose Bowl at Pasadena pairing Stanford of the Pacific-8 and Michigan of the Big Ten; the Cotton Bowl where independent Penn State meets Texas of the Southwest Conference, and the six Southeastern Conference teams in bowl tilts.

The Southeastern Conference has Alabama in the Orange Bowl, Auburn in the Sugar and Georgia against North Carolina in the Garo today.

Besides Louisiana State, two other Southeastern teams have already played their games. Tennessee beat Arkansas 14-13

Dec. 20 in the Liberty Bowl, and Mississippi outscored Georgia Tech 41-18 Thursday night in the Peach Bowl.

The Big Ten's share of the Rose Bowl receipts, after authorized expenses, is split 11 ways with one share going to each school and the commissioner's office.

In Los Angeles, Lay Leishman, chairman of the Tournament of Roses Football Committee, said gross receipts from the Rose Bowl game would be $2 million plus.

Leishman said after the game expense—about $90,000 which pays for parking attendants, ushers, ticket printing, getting the press box ready and the like—the Tournament of Roses gets 15 per cent and the colleges 85 per cent. The latter is split 50-50 between the Big Ten and the Pacific-8.

Donald B. Canham, Michigan director of athletics, said the Big Ten's share provides $130,000 expenses for the Wolverines, including $50,000 for the band, for the two-week trip.

Canham said shares to member schools and the conference office in the past have ranged from $60,000 to $80,000.

The Pacific-8 splits its share eight ways, said Bob Young, assistant athletic director at Stanford. Young said this will mean more than $120,000 per school with Stanford using an additional $90,000 for expenses, including band and parade float.

Texas will get $100,000 for its game in the Cotton Bowl where each team will receive an estimated $400,000-plus. The remainder of Texas' cut will be split with Southwest Conference teams, including Texas.

Penn State will get all of its $400,000. Houston, a new Southwest Conference member not yet playing for the championship, will receive nothing.

Teams competing in the Cotton Bowl must pay their own expenses out of the revenue they receive.

Southeastern Conference teams receive $150,000 if the bowl pays that much, a spokesman said. However, each team must pay its own expenses out of that money.

Any remaining money is put into a pot and split among the league's 10 schools and the conference office. If a team doesn't receive $150,000, a sliding scale formula is used.

Most bowl officials and conference spokesmen were hesitant to make estimates of the amount each team would receive from the various games until all tickets are sold and expenses determined.

Battle for Title

Bear, Devaney Set for Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The two most successful coaches in college football match wits in the Orange Bowl national championship showdown here Saturday night, and pro bosses can only watch and drool.

The tough, fickle but lucrative pro game offers no lure for Nebraska's Bob Devaney, whose winning percentage is best of all active coaches, or Paul "Bear" Bryant, the Alabama veteran whose 211 career victories top all the rest.

"I think you'll see more and more college coaches going over to the pros," Devaney said today as his No. 1 Alabama tapered off for the 8 p.m., EST, kickoff New Year's night.

"The two games used to be very different, but now the pros are coming back more to the college style game—more action type passing and the full-back and tailbacks operating out of the 'I'."

"But it's not for me. I've got a pretty good job. I'm happy now, although I can't say how happy I'll be—or how happy the alumni will be—after Saturday night."

The 58-year-old Bryant, who has had numerous pro offers, also shrugged off the suggestion of his launching a new career.

"I'm too old now," he said dourly. "Pro coaching has certain attractions—such as no recruiting or academic problems—but I'm essentially a college coach. I like to take a kid and watch him develop."

Bryant has been coaching 27 years, turning sow's ears into silk purses at Maryland, Kentucky, Texas A&M and finally Alabama, and during that time has had only one losing season—with Texas A&M in 1954. He has won three national championships and been in bowls for 13 consecutive seasons. His career record is 211-66-15.

In one of the final pre-Orange Bowl press conferences, Devaney jested that he might be tempted to take a fling at the pros "if I had all the hats and meat that Bryant has." The reference was to the Alabama coach's many business enterprises which have made him independently wealthy.

"I've been looking into a few businesses myself, some illegal and some immoral," Devaney kidded. "But I figure I'd better stay where I am."

The chubby, quick-witted Devaney has a 15-year career record of 126-28-6 with a winning percentage of .818. His present Cornhusker team is working on a 31-game unbeaten streak, 22 straight victories and a second consecutive national crown.

Denver among other pro teams has felt out Devaney regarding a shift to the pros. "One thing I don't think I'd like," Devaney said, "is the fact that some of the pro players are so highly paid they can go right over your head to the front office."

Tommy Prothro from UCLA, and Dan Devine of Missouri made their pro debuts during the past year with Los Angeles and Green Bay, respectively.

Both college and pro fever has turned Miami into a frenzied football metropolis, with the Miami Dolphins meeting defending champion Baltimore for the National Football League's American Conference crown Sunday less than 24 hours after the Orange Bowl.

Tickets for both games are being scalped at $100 to $200 apiece. Car rental agencies are stripped of vehicles. Hotels are jammed. Night club business is booming.

More than 60,000 Nebraska fans applied for the 12,000 available tickets. There was an equally heavy demand from Alabama rooters.

Nebraska, a big, powerful and poised team that averaged 39.1 points a game in sweeping past 12 opponents, rules a 6-point choice over an Alabama team which knocked off five other bowl teams in its unbroken 11-game march.

The Crimson Tide, with quarterback Terry Davis and rusher Johnny Musso, has averaged 32.9 points a game while limiting opponents to a total of 10 touchdowns.

Well-balanced and seasoned Nebraska is led on offense by quarterback Jerry Tagge, who passed for 2,019 yards and 17 touchdowns, a Nebraska touch, and fleet Johnny Rodgers, a breakaway slot back and kick return specialist.

The Cornhuskers have two of the nation's leading defensive stars in 6-6, 250-pound Larry Jacobson, a tackle, and 234-pound Rick Glover, an aggressive middle guard. Alabama hopes to counteract Nebraska's size advantage with quickness.

"We have to be quick to survive," said Bryant.

Champagne, Caviar Sales Increasing

NEW YORK (AP) — The year 1971 may have been a time of economic belt-tightening, but champagne and caviar sales suggest that many Americans are preparing to welcome in the new year in lavish style.

Dealers and importers of the "bubbly" and top quality eggs of the sturgeon reported demand for both luxury items was strong, with little price resistance by customers.

Caviar was in short supply and in most shops the prices are higher than last year. Imported champagne was plentiful—stocks were laid in before the 10 per cent surcharge was imposed temporarily and before the dock strike on the East Coast. Prices were holding fairly steady but there are warnings that after the holidays there will be increases.

Domestic champagne, the bulk of which is produced in California, also was in good supply. A spokesman for the California wine growers said there had been only slight price increases since last year, the boosts depending on the type of wine.

"This is a big year for us," said a spokesman for Sherry-Lehman, Inc., a New York wine and spirits store. "Champagne is flowing like water around here."

He said some customers were buying for next year in anticipation of higher prices—due to currency devaluation and rising prices for grapes in France.

In Dallas, champagne sales were brisk. An official of Neiman-Marcus Co. said: "They bought all we could get our hands on," but declined to give sales figures.

Fifty 12-bottle packages of Bollinger French 1966 vintage, priced at $89.95 each, "sold out in a hurry" at Stop and Shop, Chicago's largest gourmet store.

The caviar trade, despite short supplies and rising prices, still found demand firm.

Department of Commerce statistics showed that in the first 10 months of 1971, imports of "fresh, chilled, frozen, prepared or preserved" sturgeon roe amounted to 95,879 pounds, valued at $1,147,600, compared with all of 1970 when 106,953 pounds worth $1,217,116 were imported.

Savannah Bank Is Closed

SAVANNAH, Mo. (AP) — The state finance commissioner has announced the closing of the First Community State Bank of Savannah because of insolvency.

H. Duane Pemberton said Thursday the state closed the bank, which had estimated total deposits of $3.5 million. He said the bank's accounts were insured for up to $20,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, but he had no idea how many accounts in the bank exceeded the insured figure.

Pemberton, FIC representative and bank officials spent Thursday working behind drawn curtains. "We're still balancing the bank," Pemberton said. "It's closed for a period to be rehabilitated or reorganized or finally liquidated. We would hope the bank would be reopened. It's impossible to say when."

One bank official said the bank's board of directors had met with examiners to discuss several courses of action aimed at recapitalizing or restructuring the bank.

A.E. Karrasch, board chairman, said later in the day he did not know what action the board would take.

FAMILY OF CAPTAINS
AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Tommy Yearout is the third member of his family to serve Auburn as a football captain. His brother Gutsy captained the 1966 and 1967 teams while Vic Costello, an uncle, was 1942 captain.

Court Denies Release

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A federal appeals court refused Thursday to release Carl Ann Fugate, who was 14 when she accompanied Charles R. Starkweather on a 1958 rampage through Nebraska and Wyoming in which 11 persons were killed.

Miss Fugate was sentenced to life imprisonment for aiding Starkweather in the slaying of Robert W. Jensen of Bennet, Neb., on Jan. 17, 1958.

Starkweather was convicted of that murder and executed in June, 1959.

The U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals, in a 2-1 decision, refused to order Miss Fugate's release from the Nebraska Women's reformatory.

In her appeal, Miss Fugate contended that oral and written confessions used against her in her trial were not voluntary. She also argued she did not have an attorney of her choice.

Among the victims Starkweather admitted killing were Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartlett, Miss Fugate's mother and stepfather, and her 2-year-old half-sister, Betty Jean Bartlett.

Judge G.W. Heaney called in a dissenting opinion for Miss Fugate's release.

"Carl was only 14 years old, emotionally and physically immature, and had just gone through the seventh grade."

"She had no prior arrest. She had just witnessed or been a party to a series of 11 hideous murders, which could not have helped but traumatize her," Judge Heaney said.

Judge Heaney also said it was not clear that Miss Fugate's father and sister, who were present when the confession was made, were aware of the implications of the statement.

The majority opinion was rendered by Judges Pat Meahafy of the appeals court and James H. Meredith of U.S. District Court.

Ann Landers

She Has Sure Cure For Pesty Neighbor

Dear Ann Landers: I have a sure cure for these slobby women who inflict themselves on neighbors in the morning when most of us are trying to do our housework, get the laundry done and so on.

When we moved to this city two years ago everyone was very cordial. The neighbors were friendly and considerate. A certain woman fell into the habit of dropping in on me immediately after my husband left for work and the children were off to school. After several months of it, I told her I didn't have time for coffee, but since she seemed to be "free," would she mind polishing the dining room furniture. I gave her the cloth and polish and I went upstairs. Thirty minutes later she called to me to say she had finished. I yelled back—"Fine, now go do the living room. The tables in there really need it."

Five minutes later I heard the front door slam. I went downstairs and found a note on the kitchen table. It read, "If I wanted to do housework, I'd stay home and do my own."

She was quite cool after that little incident and I have never been bothered by her since. If you think this vignette might help someone else pass it along.

— Warren, Ohio

Dear Winner: I do and I shall. You've proved there's more than one way to get rid of a pest and get your dining room furniture polished at the same time. Thanks for sharing this bit of shrewdness.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is being married soon and our funds are limited. The boy's family was very considerate. We agreed on a guest list of 150. Now we have run into a terrific problem. Although the invitations were addressed to "Mr. and Mrs.," some of the guests returned their acceptance cards and let us know that they plan to bring their children. One couple wrote, "Of course we'll have all five youngsters along. We wouldn't want them to miss such a beautiful affair." Several other couples let us know they are bringing a "date" for their daughter — or an "intended son-in-law." Another couple wrote: "We'll have my mother and her sister with us. They are visiting."

We don't know what to do, Ann. We haven't the nerve to call these people and tell them they can't bring anyone — that the invitation is for "Mr. and Mrs." Please help us come to a sensible decision. — In A Spot

Dear Spot: You have a choice: Either keep quiet and foot the bill for the extras, or phone the people and tell them "no extras," in which case you should be prepared to lose a few friends. The best way to avoid this problem is to enclose a card saying, "So sorry, this invitation is for 'Mr. and Mrs.' only. The seating facilities are limited." This suggestion comes too late for you, but it might help someone else.

Dear Ann Landers: I am in

Sales Tax Rebate Okayed in Kansas

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Kansans who recently bought new automobiles and who are applying for the retroactive rebate on the federal excise tax can also apply for a rebate on the state sales tax paid on the excise tax.

Revenue Director James T. McDonald explained the rule Wednesday.

He said a new car purchased in Kansas has the sales tax charged against the excise tax portion of the total cost as well as the rest of the purchase price.

Those getting the excise tax rebate under the law recently passed by Congress may also apply to their dealers to get the sales tax back, McDonald said.

They must request the sales tax back from the dealer, then sign an affidavit with the dealer that they have received it. The dealer then sends the affidavit to the state and receives credit for that amount against his future taxes.

The sales tax is 3½ per cent in Topeka, Lawrence and Manhattan.

Lexington Jobless Ranks Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lexington, Mo., was one of six small towns designated by the Labor Department Wednesday as substantial unemployment areas.

More than 6 per cent of the work force is jobless in such areas.

the fifth grade and already I am writing to Ann Landers. A kid in our class said he was born in a Drive-In theater. He claims his father was driving his mother to the hospital and on the way, they noticed a movie they had both been wanting to see for a long time. So they stopped and he was born suddenly. Is this possible? — Just Wondering

Dear Just: It's possible, but not likely. Usually when a lady is on her way to the hospital to have a baby she is in no shape to enjoy a movie.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet, "Alcoholism — Hope And Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Selling Seminary To The Public Soon

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The administrator of the Retreat Center of LaSalette has announced the former seminary in Jefferson City will be sold to the public.

Father James Mannering said Wednesday all activities at the 42-acre retreat will cease Jan. 1.

Father Mannering said the decision to sell was made after efforts to buy the land and two buildings by a local board of laymen failed. The Board of Superiors in St. Louis then decided to list the property with Jefferson City realtors.

The board said the action was taken because the retreat was not getting enough use.

Correct Error In AP Dispatch

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — The Associated Press, in a story reporting a gas explosion in a newly constructed water tunnel near here on Dec. 11, said that the $13 million tunnel project had been given to Greenfield and Associates and then withdrawn after unsatisfactory performance.

This was an error. Greenfield and Associates were never dismissed from the job for unsatisfactory performance, according to a spokesman for the company. The contract was awarded Greenfield and Associates on July 1, 1968 and that joint venture still is the contractor on the job, as subsequent reports on the explosion said.

Engineer Talks To Kiwanians

Sedalia's sewage and solid waste disposal systems were explained to Kiwanians at their meeting Thursday noon at the Bothwell Hotel.

Robert Cunningham, city engineer, said Sedalia is served by 80 miles of sewer lines, which feed into three water treatment plants. He said the Sedalia sewage treatment system is one of the most effective in the state, and that the waste water is well within the standards set by the Missouri Water Pollution Board by the time it is discharged into area streams.

The city engineer said great demands are made on the north plant, however, due to commercial wastes from meat packing plants, dairies and poultry plants. He said such discharges from commercial operations are the equivalent of more than 40,000 people in terms of the demands made upon the system.

Cunningham said the Sedalia landfill, covering an 80-acre tract, handles all solid wastes from the city as well as some from the county, for which a fee is charged. He said about three acres a year are used up at the landfill to handle the ever-growing amount of solid wastes.

The speaker was introduced by John Ryan, program chairman.

Henry Salveter introduced Louis Walch, Cedar Rapids, Ia., as his guest.

Singing was led by Abe Rosenthal, accompanied by Mrs. Keith Maynard.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Jim Kane.

Hayes Packs Concerts

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Bald Isaac Hayes gave a concert in New York and was told in his dressing room that some women had fainted. "Too hot in the hall?" he asked. "Too excited," he was told.

People who buy records get pretty excited about Hayes, too. It's rare that a recording artist has a top record on both the single and LP best-selling charts. But Hayes did, with the "Theme from Shaft" single, No. 1 in Cashbox Magazine Nov. 13 and 20, and "Shaft," the original movie soundtrack LP, No. 1, Nov. 13.

It isn't often that an artist has a number of gold LPs, but Hayes, after a first one that didn't set the charts on fire, "Presenting Isaac Hayes," has had all four since become not only gold, which means $1 million in sales each, but go on to sell more than $2 million each. These four, on Enterprise, a subsidiary of Stax Records, are "Hot Buttered Soul," "Isaac

Isaac Hayes

Hayes Movement," "To Be Continued" and "Shaft."

"Black Moses," a two-record set, is the pre-Christmas release.

What does Black Moses mean? Hayes says, "I've never named any of my LPs and I didn't name myself that. Someone said, 'You're the Moses of the people. You're leading us in music.' It caught on and people started calling me that."

Being called Black Moses definitely doesn't mean that he's a leader in either religion or black militancy, Hayes says.

"They didn't say I'm the Black Moses of the black world, they said of the music world. What we should do is super-consciously bring all cultures together through music. If black people look to me, it's to feel like they are well represented in music, to add to certain amount of dignity to the black man's contribution to the field of music."

Jet Magazine had Hayes' picture on the cover last February and a story inside which said, "He is indeed a Black Moses of the times, leading music lovers into exciting, uncharted areas: a Moses who is expanding the form and possibilities of music that warms the soul."

The album that brought Hayes to public acclaim was "Hot Buttered Soul," that one named by Al Bell, a Stax executive. Hayes says, "He said it was a takeoff from hot buttered rum, like a warm, mellow, stimulating drink to warm you in the winter time. Warm your soul, do it musically."

Hayes and David Porter had written some 200 songs, but "Hot Buttered Soul" included, except for one tune, songs other singers had already made into hits. So what did "Hot Buttered Soul" offer? Hayes says, "the performance and the arrangement; you sell yourself and the arrangement."

His first concert was in Detroit, August, 1969, after "Hot Buttered Soul" had come out. He says, "I was scared to death, too, until I got out there for awhile. The audience was so warm and beautiful, all fear left. From then on I was into it."

THINK ABOUT HEALTH

Protect your back with preventive care learn to lift properly

1. Size up object and plant feet solidly
2. Lift with big muscles of legs, thighs, arms and shoulders. NOT THE SPINE
3. Use mechanical lifting devices if load is too heavy.
4. Have a clear vision and path.

Most disabling back injuries come from falls and careless lifting, if a back injury should occur see your doctor or chiropractic immediately.

TV Commercials Set Film Trends

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Michael Cacoyannis one of the world's great movie directors, was in town. And he spent most of his leisure hours glued to the television set — to watch the commercials.

He thinks they're good and, what is more surprising, believes that American TV commercials have had a major impact on motion pictures.

"Take the quick cuts that are so important in films today," Cacoyannis says. "They first started on your commercials. Now everybody does it. So whenever I'm here, I watch commercials — they're good fun and generally much better than the shows."

Cacoyannis' latest is "The Trojan Women," with Katharine Hepburn, Vanessa Redgrave, Genevieve Bujold and Irene Papas. He says the four women — all highly individual ladies with highly individual temperaments — got along beautifully.

"But that is not surprising," he says. "Yes, they are all temperamental, but they are also professional. And they all have a great respect for each other's ability."

He shot the film in only eight weeks. He is, he says, a director who shoots fast and tight, and he does his own editing as he goes along.

He never works on more than one project at a time. When he has finished one, then and only then does he look to the future and his next job.

At the moment, he's planning to direct a Broadway play with Melina Mercouri, his great discovery. After that, probably another film, although he's not sure what it will be.

"I'm mulling over several ideas," he says. "I don't let them stew — things that stew never come to a boil. I just think about them idly, and one will come to be."

Schlesinger: Films Aren't for Family

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Motion pictures, these days, are not family entertainment. And John Schlesinger thinks that is the way it should be.

"Family entertainment," says the brilliant English director, "belongs right where it is — on the goggle box."

But movies are something else. He thinks movies should be special, shown in smaller theaters to specialized audiences who appreciate them.

And he believes that directors should simply try to make movies for these special audiences and not aim at making blockbusters.

"If they want to make money," Schlesinger says, "let them do what I do — I make TV commercials. I wouldn't want to do that constantly, but it's ideal for my purpose."

Even though he maintains he doesn't set out to make huge sums of money on his films, he manages to do that anyway. Although he has had some flops — "Far From the Madding Crowd" comes to mind immediately — he has also made "Darling" and "Midnight Cowboy," which were of profound benefit to his exchequer.

And now he has "Sunday Bloody Sunday," which threatens to be one of '71's major hits.

Schlesinger says he works slowly, and the idea for "Sunday Bloody Sunday" — a love triangle that involves a woman and two men — has been stewing in his mind for some years. He was seeking some way to follow "Darling," another type of love story.

The idea, he says, evolved after many conversations with Joseph Janni, his producer, and Penelope Gilliatt, who wrote it.

"I had a lot to do with the writing, too," he says. "I suppose I could get a writer's credit on it, but my name over the title is enough."

The original title was supposed to be just "Bloody Sunday," but they decided that many people would think the "Bloody" meant gore instead of what it was, the English vulgarism for awful. So they stuck another "Sunday" in front and, although Schlesinger isn't too happy with the title, it apparently doesn't matter.

Now he's preparing his next, "Hadrian VII," based on the hit play but even more based on the original book.

"I'm not sure where we'll shoot it," he says, "but probably not in Rome. I don't want a literal Vatican, but rather a fantasy Vatican, and one doesn't need to go to Rome for that."

Schlesinger says he is depressed with the current state of the British film industry, particularly with the English methods of advertising, promoting and exhibiting films.

"In England," he says, "they still think in terms of a family show in theaters, with a long, boring program complete with a double bill and a boring cartoon and a boring documentary, too. And a lot of time in between so you can go out and buy lousy ice cream and fake orangeade."

More and more, to counter that philosophy, he is taking a firm hand with the way his films are advertised and promoted.

Female Liberated Writer But Not Part of Lib Movement

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Marcia Jacobs doesn't often say things people like to hear. But then what would you expect from a lady who co-authored a book called "How To Make Yourself Miserable."

Now, however, she's reformed—a little since her latest book is "The Praise Book or Nice Things To Say to People." Both, though, were all in fun.

One of the few comedy writers of her gender, Miss Jacobs, shaggy-haired and wearing a teeny white pig on a chain around her neck, starts an interview with a question: "What can I tell you?" It turns out she has a lot to tell—about what it was like to write for the Smothers Brothers show, about writing in general and about the philosophy of her existence, which she calls a "series of comic experiences."

"Comedy is an attitude, and if it's what you're good at, you do it," she says. "I'd rather write comedy for print instead of television, though. There's more control."

"My first book seems to have really helped people, and psychiatrists are even using it. Because if people can see a comedy about things everybody suffers from, it makes them feel they're not so alone."

Now, she continues, "there's a new kind of humor. It's a little more abstract, subtle. Not like tapdancing on the table. And you have to be a little more relaxed about it. Also young people can make a lot of jokes about things those in older generation were emotionally involved in and can't laugh about."

Claiming not to be a women's libber when a group of feminists asked Miss Jacobs if she were involved in "the movement," she asked "what movement?" this author still comes on like a woman who is very liberated.

"It's like charity begins at home," she says. "So does liberation. If you want to do something you just do it. I wanted to go to college, so I worked my way through. Women do need consciousness raising, and they have to change their image of their own self-worth though. They have been put down for so long, they believe it."

"When I was working on the Smothers Brothers show, I'd go in and say, 'I've got a great idea for the opening lines,' and they'd say, 'What a good-looking pair of slacks you've got on.' Sure, you don't like that."

"And then you get four males writing comedy for a woman. It just doesn't work."

Miss Jacobs' main objection to women's lib groups is that they have no sense of humor. "They take themselves so seriously. You just can't joke around them," she says. Reflecting on one group she had met recently, Miss Jacobs adds, "All I thought is that they were very defensive and rigid."

The author graduated from the University of Southern California with a BA in philosophy, did graduate work at the Sorbonne in Paris, became a press agent, wrote comedy and then—"the miserable book I think since I was a kid, I wanted to be a writer, but I didn't want to write. I just didn't know how. And I had a minus self-worth opinion of myself."

That's changed now, and Miss Jacobs says she is a curious mixture of arrogance and shyness. She's working on a novel, but won't divulge the story line, was assistant to the director on the film, "A Safe Place," and she's in a constant process of self-evaluation.

"I love getting older. I'm 34 now and things are getting better—a lot better," she says. "I think the whole trouble with the world is that people are taught to expect—not react. After all these years of asking questions, everybody has missed the point—that there are no answers. The point is to raise the questions."

"All a writer can do is to make contact, and maybe to make people think."

CUMMINGS AGAIN
Robert Cummings will guest on a future segment of Here's Lucy. He'll play Miss Ball's boyfriend, hopefully with all the dash he had as the bachelor photographer on his old TV comedy series, Love That Bob.
